Subject: Inspection of Tatung monitors in LPL's possession

Following up on our discussion from yesterday, LPL continues to offer to provide Tatung with the serial numbers of the Tatung products that LPL has in its possession and which have been accused of infringement. We will not, however, agree to let Tatung inspect those products because such an inspection would require LPL to reveal attorney work product and would be unnecessarily burdensome to LPL, given LPL's offer to provide serial numbers. LPL's offer, as we discussed, was in response to Tatung's indication in the March 20 Joint Status Report that serial numbers would provide Tatung with the information that it seeks.

Please let us know if LPL's offer will satisfy your concerns
